
Unfolded DIRBE skycube with pixel numbering indicated. The number in each box is the number in the lower right corner of that portion of the cube face; top row gives hundred thousands, ten thousands, thousands and bottom gives hundreds, tens, units. Each face has 256 by 256 pixels. The dashed line shows Galactic plane, ◇ marks Galactic center and Δ marks anticenter.